The Commonwealth

TO INVESTIGATE PEONAGE.

Judge Evans Charged the Federal Grand Jury at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., March 22.—In his charge to the federal grand jury Judge Walter Evans ordered an investigation of alleged causes of peonage in the Louisville district. The statement was based on District Attorney Hill's investigation, but the facts were not disclosed. Judge Evans said: "The district attorney informs me that for some time he has been investigating peonage cases in this district, and from what he says I am persuaded that a most remarkable state of affairs exists. The 13th amendment of the constitution of the United States guarantees liberty to every man; and in support of it a number of laws have been enacted by congress. One of them provided a penalty for any person who shall imprison another without due conviction for a crime. This is peonage. If it be true that there are a number of cases of this kind in this district it is your duty to bring indictments against the offenders if the cases are brought before you with sufficient proof to make you reasonably believe that an indictment would result in conviction."

THE HARGIS HEARING.

Vantage Gained By Neither Side the Second Day.

Lexington, Ky., March 22.—The second day of the hearing of the motion made by Judge Hargis and his associates for bail brought no material advantage to either side. This is regarded as a favorable omen to the defendants. Every inch of ground is being stubbornly contested, and the commonwealth had not closed its testimony when the court adjourned.

The star witness was Capt. B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, who testified that he had talked with Judge Hargis concerning the killing of James Cockrell before and after the deed, but in the hands of Attorney George R. Hunt, for the defense, he became confused.

Anse White, brother of Tom White, of Jackson, will appear and give his testimony against the Hargises.

FAITHFUL DOGS.

They Stood Watch Over Their Master's Remains.

Paris, Ky., March 22.—John White, son of the late G. G. White, a well-known distiller, who died here a few months ago, was found dead in his bedroom. He had not been seen since last Friday, and it is supposed he died some time during the night. His room was broken into and Mr. White found lying in bed, with his two faithful collie dogs standing guard over the remains.

After filing suit for divorce White's wife committed suicide last summer by shooting herself through the brain. He came into possession of a small fortune at his father's death, which goes to his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Thompson. He was 42 years old.

"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Georgia Dumber

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?
